Policy:

The Maharashtra institute of dental sciences and research (Dental College) has policies to implement for advance and slow learners. Our College is affiliated to MUHS and follows rules and guidelines regarding evaluation of student's progress. The planning is made at the beginning of every new academic year which begins with orientation program. The program helps students to get familiarize with the institution and the overall teaching learning process, methodology, available facilities in the campus and activities run by each departments throughout the academic session for the holistic development of students. Categorization of students is logically carried out depending on their learning outcomes and their response in the teaching learning process. Mentorship programme ensure the individual attention and assistance to students regarding academic as well as non-academic issues. It is done with full provision that no students shall be demotivated. To improve learning experiences and to achieve individualized learning, students are categorized as advanced learners and slow learners. The purpose of these guidelines is to identify the slow and advanced learners of both BDS and MDS programmes and to assign the supporting activities. This will also help the departments for proper mentoring of their mentee and to monitoring the progress.

Identification of advanced learner and slow learner:

1) Slow Learners:

Students which are constantly the poor achievers lag behind in the academics, fail in exams, low-average performance in the internal assessment examination, find difficulty to understand the lessons and may have difficulties in their retention, reproduction and integration. Their motivation levels also may be poor and may find it difficult to adjust with the teaching learning process. Slow learners are those who require all extra such as time, topic understanding, repetition, motivation, confidence and training in order to be in learning process and get the most of it. They are dependent and can't focus on self-learning. They are categorized as slow learners.

2) Advanced Learners:

Advanced learners are those who have higher level of learning and academic responsibilities achieved outstanding results are regarded as advanced learners. These students engage learning activities faster than the other students in the class and achieve high scores. They are more prospective with their comprehension, retention, memory, critical thinking and creativity. They also may have hard efficient behaviors and usually achieve more than the majority of the classmates. They are identified by their attentiveness in class, sometimes their attendance and sincere participation in the classroom curricular activities such as seminars, group discussions, and interactive sessions. Their willingness in peer learning and assisting in classroom management can also be a indication to find advance learners.
