TOPIC

Sinus augmentation, when performed with simultaneous or delayed implant placement, is a predictable procedure in augmenting deficient alveolar Maxillary posterior ridge. In order to place straight axial implants in posterior resorbed maxilla, sinus lift is needed. Sinus augmentation was performed with either the lateral window or crestal approaches. In this CDE programme we will discuss various Sinus Lift approaches and Pterygoid implant placement along with live clinical cases.

Artificial Intelligence In Dental Research

COURSE INFORMATION

Artificial intelligence is rapidly changing the way things are done in every field and dentistry and research are no exception. While a lot of work has been done on the use of machine learning and artificial intelligence in diagnosis using large data sets including image analysis. The fact still remains that many students both at undergraduate and postgraduate level in India are unaware of the impact of artificial intelligence in research, how it can make the process easier, how it can save time and energy and where they need to be cautious about using and trusting artificial intelligence during the research process.

The lecture and hands on workshop have the objective of introducing artificial intelligence to participants without going into the complicated engineering and data analytical part of it. This objective is achieved by introducing the participants to specific artificial intelligence programs and websites and applications which can handle some or the other aspect of research. The participants are then given hands on training on the same using examples chosen by them. Finally, the participants learn where to be cautious about the use of artificial intelligence and the moral and ethical implications of using AI in research.

CBCT Workshop – “Comprehensive CBCT – from basics to the cutting edge”

The Department of Oral Medicine and Radiology conducted a workshop on “Comprehensive CBCT – from basics to the cutting edge” on 7,8 & 9 March 2025, at Maharashtra Institute of Dental Sciences and Research (Dental College), Latur.

Venue: Orthotech Lecture Hall,

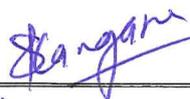

Maharashtra Institute of Dental Sciences and Research (Dental College), Latur.

Workshop Details:

A) Introduction:

Dental radiography is a vital part of clinical dentistry and CBCT (Cone Beam Computed Tomography), a fundamental, ever-evolving diagnostic tool that plays an integral role throughout the patient care pathway - allowing more accurate and informed diagnosis and treatment planning. Cone-beam computed tomography (CBCT) is a crucial diagnostic tool in dentistry, offering detailed 3D images of the oral and maxillofacial structures, enabling more accurate diagnoses, treatment planning, and surgical procedures compared to traditional 2D imaging. CBCT imaging not only allows for early detection of root resorption (external or internal) as compared to 2D imaging, it can also identify the extent of a lesion.

The Department of Oral Medicine and Radiology conducted a workshop on “Comprehensive CBCT – from basics to the cutting edge” on 7,8 & 9 March 2025, 9 am to 5 pm, at Maharashtra Institute of Dental Sciences and Research (Dental College), Latur. The workshop was conducted for three days i.e. 7,8 & 9 March 2025 from 9 am to 5 pm. The first day started with the lamp lighting and offering of flower to Dnyaneshwar photo followed by felicitation of guests.
